

The latest news on what's powering our neighborhoods

We're expanding access to EV charging

PSE is bringing electric vehicle charging to where you live, work and visit. With our network of seven Up & Go Electric public charging stations – located in Lacey, Bellingham, Kent, Olympia, Sumner, Anacortes and Bremerton – we're making sure all EV drivers, not just PSE customers, have access to fast, reliable EV charging to get where they need to go.

But, that's just the start. With our expanded Up & Go Electric for Public program, we're offering incentives to businesses, communities and organizations to install public charging stations. These incentives can cover up to 100% of the costs to install, maintain and operate EV charging for public use.

Learn about Public Safety Power Shutoffs

PSE's Wildfire Mitigation and Response Program works year-round to prepare for and help prevent wildfires in our service area. As we approach this year's wildfire season, we want you to be prepared, too!

This month, PSE will host a series of open houses in communities with higher wildfire risk. You can also visit our self-paced online open house. It's a chance to learn about PSE's wildfire program and how you can prepare if there's a Public Safety Power Shutoff (PSPS). During high-risk weather conditions, PSE may temporarily shut off power in some areas to help prevent wildfires. PSPS is a tool of last resort to keep you and your community safe.

Blocked sewer? Call PSE, or ask your plumber to call

If your sewer is blocked beyond the walls of your house, call PSE when your plumber is on their way to clear it. Or have your plumber call. Some natural gas lines have inadvertently been installed through sewer and septic lines. Clearing the pipes with a cutting tool could break the gas line, allowing gas into your house and creating a dangerous situation. PSE will meet your plumber on-site – for free – and ensure the sewer or septic line is safe to clear.
